Civically Engaged Youth Council

About Seattle CityClub

Seattle CityClub is a nonpartisan, 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization improving the civic health of the Puget Sound region by providing programs that bridge politics, sectors, and generations to inform and engage residents and community leaders.

Every year, Seattle CityClub programs serve over 4,000 Puget Sound residents in-person, and an additional 26,000 residents through social media and website content.

About Civically Engaged Youth Council (CEYC)

In 2024, Seattle CityClub is launching its Civically Engaged Youth Council (CEYC).

The CEYC will be comprised of high school and college aged students across Western and Central Washington. Led by its peers, the CEYC will be provided opportunities to examine the value and impediments of free speech; discuss and learn about national and international issues of critical importance; and be challenged to discover ways in which they can actively participate in public life.

The CEYC will kick off at our Civic Cocktail event on Wednesday, April 3, 2024, which will feature a panel of the Council's leadership, who will share their backgrounds in civic engagement and ideas for future activities, including the upcoming regional and statewide elections and debates.

CEYC leadership will also have a spot on the Seattle CityClub Board of Directors.

2024 GOALS

01

Create a fun and respectful atmosphere for making connections

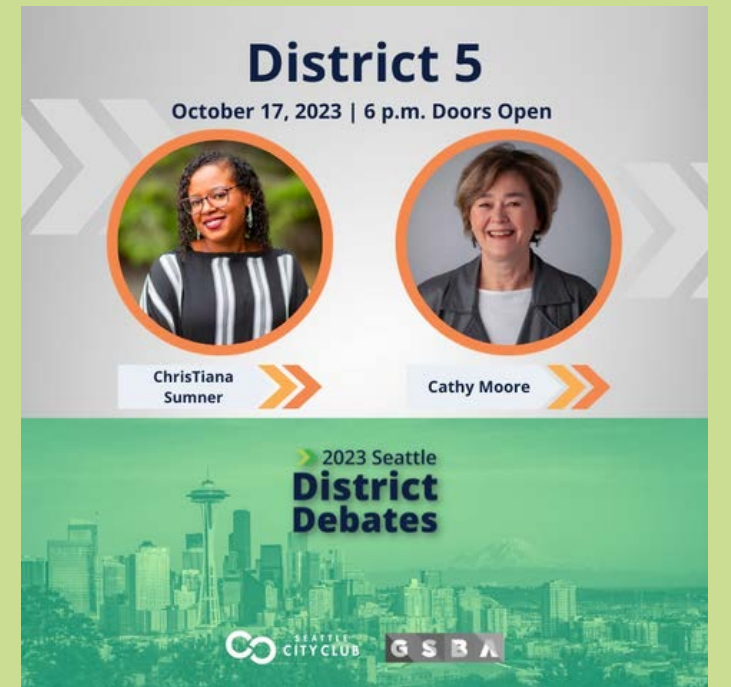

02

Foster civil discourse among community members

03

Promote and increase civic engagement for teens and young adults
